October Specials—Angel Messages and Gifts

Focusing With Archangel Zadkiel

Feeling overwhelmed by the avalanche of information coming at you? Has multi-tasking exhausted you? Do you need help with your memory? Who doesn't?

This month's angel is Archangel Zadkiel, one of the healing archangels who also helps with intellectual matters. His name means "Righteousness of God" for his abilities to assist with forgiveness and compassion for others as well as ourselves. He works with Archangel Michael in clearing us of negative energies and infusing us with Divine love and faith.

Zadkiel's color is deep indigo blue and his associated crystal is the mineral lapis lazuli.

Not only can this archangel help you remember important details and find lost items, he is a master of helping us focus and recognize what it truly important.

Try beginning your day spending a few minutes working with Archangel Zadkiel to sharpen your memory and help you stay focused on the tasks for the day. Ask him to eliminate all distractions and obstacles and replace them with clarity, focus, and all the tools you need to easily and comfortably accomplish your goals.

You may also want to try a nightly ritual with Zadkiel to have him clear you of any unforgiveness that you may have carried throughout your day. Asking the archangels to work with us while we sleep is always a good idea as our blocks and barriers are off guard. They just need our permission to enter our subconscious.

Regardless of when you work with Zadkiel, you will find him motivating and a wise and compassionate teacher no matter what you are trying to learn in earth school.

Hearing From The Other Side

Part of our human life is to experience death—the end of the human body. The angels say no soul escapes the lessons of grief, mourning, the death of our human bodies, our transition into the non-physical and our soul's evolution.

We want reassurance that our departed loves ones are at peace and are no longer suffering any physical or emotional pain. Just as we have hundreds of ways we communicate on earth, so does the Other Side. Here are just a few ways you may be getting messages from your loved ones:

- Physically feeling a tingling sensation moving up or through your body.
- Electrical fluctuations such as flickering lights, appliances coming on or off on their own, doorbells and phone calls with no one on the end.
- Suddenly smelling scents which make you think of your loved one such as cologne or even smoke.

- Animals and birds who gravitate towards you and may exhibit unusual persistent attention towards you.
- Hearing a song that has special meaning for you and your loved one.
- Finding feathers or coins.
- Your dreams are an easy way for loved ones to visit. You can tell the difference between a visitation and an ordinary dream as it will be more vivid and very intense.

The angels want to help you connect with your loved ones on the Other Side as they know this would give all souls involved great joy, healing and peace. Call on them to help deliver messages to Heaven.
