Need Inspiration? Ask Archangel Uriel

Looking for a little guidance and inspiration as you navigate your path? Meet Uriel, one of the wisest archangels. Uriel sheds light on situations and is the archangel of divine inspiration and ideas. His name means “God is light,” “fire of God” or “God’s Light.”

Uriel’s color is golden yellow like the glow of a flame. His crystal is amber. He is associated with the Aquarius astrological sign.

Uriel’s other specialties include alchemy and divine magic, prophetic information and warnings. He helps with natural disasters and earth changes. He is known for warning Noah and guiding him along his path. Uriel has an affinity with weather elements of lightning and thunder.

As one of the archangels of intellect and the mind, Archangel Uriel is an excellent problem solver and assists students with their studies and tests.

Archangel Uriel asks us to call upon him for help solving any problem, for inspiration, ideas and enlightenment. He can help you be open to new ideas, to focus and to take all the action steps needed.

Once you ask Uriel for help, be ready for inspiration to arrive in all sorts of ways. It may be an idea out of the blue or you may just have a knowingness. You may get vital information through an overheard conversation, or just happen upon an interesting news story or article to inspire you in just the right direction. It’s amazing what happens when Uriel shows us the way!

Angel Advice to Chronic Givers

Are you one of many lightworkers who struggle with allowing others to help? If you are always giving, never allowing yourself to receive, your energy is unbalanced and you are blocking assistance. This may show up in a variety of physical ways including fatigue and depression.

The angels ask you to consider a few things the next time you are about to refuse an offer of help. First, do you believe in God, our all powerful creator? If you do, do you believe that God has helpers? If you believe in God’s helpers, it stands to reason that even the all powerful needs helpers. Why are you the exception? Accepting help does not make you weak or incapable.

Chances are, you take great joy in helping someone or something. Close your eyes and imagine how good it feels to know you’ve made someone’s life better. Do you want to deny that feeling to your willing helpers?

Be on the lookout for offers of assistance (large or small) and as the angels advise: “Practice saying ‘yes, thank you.’” Enjoy receiving without guilt or worries of repayment.

An Evening With The Angels Series

This month kicks off Kelly’s new series “An Evening With The Angels” in Idaho Springs, Colorado.

Each evening Kelly will relay messages from the angels on a specific subject. The talks are interactive as the angels love answering questions from the group. Of course, everyone’s favorite part of the evening are the random angel readings for attendees which follow the presentation.
