October Specials—Angel Messages and Gifts

Find Comfort With Archangel Azrael

Your time in your physical vessel is marked by one transition after another. Our beloved planet is also constantly changing. Our souls are evolving (hopefully) as we move through our lessons. Change is such an important part of every soul's journey, there is an archangel to help us through these passages, as well as grief that often accompanies a transition.

Archangel Azrael is the angel to call upon for assistance with change. His name means "whom God helps." His specialty is helping souls transition and comforting the grieving. He helps counselors. He also works with many people whose life purposes involve helping souls leave their physical bodies such as nurses, hospice workers and caregivers.

Capricorn is the astrological sign associated with Azrael. His color is a very pale yellow, and his crystal is creamy yellow calcite.

Azrael wants to help you with any change or loss—whether it is a soul going to Heaven or the loss of a job. He says a loss is a loss, and our hearts experience the same emotions as we move through the grieving process.

Because Azrael works so closely with the Other Side he can "lift the veil" for clearer communication to loved ones on the Other Side. You can also call on him to help a soul cross over regardless of whether the soul is still in their earth vessel or is an earth-bound soul (commonly known as "ghosts").

As with all Divine beings of light and love, you can connect with Azrael by sitting in a quiet place, focusing on your breath and repeating the archangel's name. Imagine yourself surrounded by and submerged in the angel's color. Be aware of any feelings, thoughts, visions or sounds that come to you as this is how the Higher Power answers us and the angels communicate those messages and guidance.

Archangel Azrael is honored to be of service to us as we mourn losses and endure changes. He has much to teach us about managing losses and transitioning through changes. Know that you and your loved ones are worthy of the love and support of the Higher Power's helpers.

Angel affirmation

I am safe as I move through change with grace and ease. I know I am always Divinely guided and protected.

Navigate Grief With Divine Help

Grief is a required course in Earth School according to the angels. No soul is exempt from the experiences and lessons learned from loss. These valuable soul teachings belong strictly to the earth for the Divine does not know lack or absence.

This does not preclude the angels from being powerful helpers and companions in times of loss. It makes no difference whether this is a loss of a person, animal, situation, or thing. Your soul was intended and designed for love. When you believe that that source of love has ended, grief is a natural reflex.

The angels want you to know that all your emotions during the grieving process are valuable and normal. Every grieving experience is as unique as you are and who/what you are grieving.

As you move through the stages of grief, allow others to support and help you. Know that there is no timetable or requirement of how long you are feeling your feelings. Be gentle with yourself for this is what your loved ones want for you. As always, treat yourself as if you were caring for someone you love intensely.

So often the human mind and emotions go to the loved one, to the loss and the circumstances. This too is natural for the human mind. Make sure that your treasured memories receive just as much "airtime" in your mind as the events that involved the "loss."

While you may feel alone as you grieve, know that some feel unequipped and inadequate when facing the intense emotions and finality that comes with loss. Know that your loved ones and your Divine helpers surround you in these times. You are never alone or unaccompanied on your journey through Earth School's powerful lessons although you are always free to accept or reject Divine assistance and love.
