Manage Negativity With Archangel Michael

Fear on the earth plane has become an epidemic, and many are addicted to rage (a manifestation of fear). The Divine healer of fear is Archangel Michael. He is a leader among the archangels.

Michael's name means "he who is like God." He is the patron saint of police officers and other heroes and can lend you his strength whenever you need bravery.

His color is a royal blue with flacks of royal purple, and his associated crystal is the gorgeous Sugilite.

Along with Archangels Haniel and Raphael, Michael is the overseer of all astrological signs.

Archangel Michael often counsels people to surrender guilt, shame and unforgiveness to him for transformation into light and love. He says these low vibrating emotions only attract more of the same and block the Divine as you do not feel worthy. Michael consistently says, "The guilty demand punishment, and you and/or others you select will act as punishers and attract negative and harsh experiences to you."

Another block to Divine guidance and peace is lack of self-love. This is another area where Archangel Michael can guide you to teachers, books and other healers when you ask for help loving yourself. At your request, he'll also help you change negative beliefs and affirmations into positive supportive and nurturing thoughts so you can attract and create for your and everyone else's highest good.

Michael says he often hears humans affirm they do not hear or feel Divine guidance but nothing could be further from the truth. "Divine guidance surrounds you and the situations for which you pray. Deem yourself worthy of the Creator's help and then look for and be open to answers. They come in the form of signs, from other humans, gut feelings and many, many, delightful and subtle ways from your Divine helpers. Call upon me to help you overcome any fears (aka excuses) as you take guided action."

Connect to Another's Angels

The angels love to answer questions—especially ones that come up often such as this one.

An angel lover asks: "Is it wrong to talk to someone else's angels? Is this a violation of free will?"

The angels are delighted with this question. By you communicating your feelings to someone else's angels, you are communicating with that person. Think of this as talking to a loved one of a loved one. Everyone's sole intention is to love and support this loved one. This is Divine.

Of course, the angels respect everyone's free will. Free will is a commandment from the Creator and all beings of light and love honor free will. Your request to someone's angels does not violate that person's free will. They are free to make their own choices, but your feelings can be absorbed spiritually by talking to another's angels. As always, the angels look to our pure intention and ensure that it is in alignment with God's will and law.

The angels say sharing your concerns and feelings with another's guardian angels is a form of prayer. Just as with prayer, pure intentions of light, well being and love are always welcome and can create miracles.
